and they said that the Enquiry Officer was biased and so the result of the enquiry should not be accepted. I thereupon stated that if a prosecution was filed by the persons who were acquainted with the case and they put forward evidence, Government would give them every assistance in the matter of prosecution. I have heard nothing further about it. It was stated by me on two occasions that Government will help them in the prosecution of the case, give a lawyer if necessary, provided the persons concerned would come forward and give the necessary evidence as complainants. No answer has been forthcoming.
